Donald E. Erb December 9, 2014

Mr. Donald E. (Don) Erb, 86, of Gaithersburg, Maryland died Tuesday, December 9, 2014. Don was the husband of Lois Raab Erb. He was born January 31, 1928 in Mayberry, Maryland to the late William and Margaret Erb.

Don served as the Director of Isotope Production and Distribution at the U.S. Department of Energy from 1989 until his retirement in 1997. He was the 1992 recipient of the American Society of Nuclear Physicians Industrial Committee Achievement Award for his isotope work. After his retirement in 1997, Don served on the Advisory Committee of the Idaho Accelerator Center at Idaho State University, which focuses its research on accelerator-produced isotopes and their medical, industrial, and national security applications.

Before he began work for the U.S. Department of Energy in 1974, Don was the Director of the Battelle Memorial Institute Columbus Laboratories Nuclear Utilities Technical Assistance Program, providing assistance to electric utilities with nuclear power plants under construction and in operation. He also worked for the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission from 1957 to 1968, where he was responsible for research and development programs.

Don is a graduate of Western Maryland College (now McDaniel College) in Westminster and the Johns Hopkins University and was sponsored by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission to participate in President Eisenhower's Atoms for Peace Program for studies at the International School of Nuclear Science and Engineering at Penn State University/Argonne National Laboratory.

Don is survived by his wife Lois, his children, Jason and Jennifer, and four grandchildren.

But in a place like the Diadem, where the normal laws of nature appear to be ignored entirely, it is impossible to say exactly where this water comes from.Used in expert crafting recipes. 5.41 Approved Grade 4 Artisanal Skybuilders' Ice Stalagmite Be sure to hold this the right way up or it could be mistaken for a stalactite.Used in expert crafting recipes. 2.0 Umbrella Fig An ornamental plant native to the islands of the south seas, given its name by Lalafellin clans who used its prodigious leaves in lieu of umbrellas. "Burned to death by flaming frog vomit" is hardly the sort of remark one wants in their obituary.Used in level 60 and 70 crafting recipes. 2.2 Tempered Glass Glass treated in a flame and then quickly cooled to increase its resistance to heat as well as its overall hardness. 2.2 Thavnairian Adhesive Countless Hamnish alchemists have chosen death over revealing the secret recipe of this odorless paste used in the creation of some of the island nation's most valuable armor. This can make transporting it somewhat troublesome. 5.3 Terminus Putty A powerful adhesive invented by Master Severian of the Alchemists' Guild, so named for being the putty to end all putty. 2.0 Horsetail A robust grass resembling a horse's tail, often used as an abrasive. It is only found in the mountains of Eastern Aldenard. 5.11 Skyspring Water Crystal-clear water taken from a secluded spring located on a remote islet floating above the Sea of Clouds. 5.21 Approved Grade 2 Skybuilders' Spring Water Despite the potentially misleading name, it can also be collected in summer and autumn. 4.4 Basaltic Clay Pitch black in color due to its rich density of minerals, this clay is found only in the deepest parts of the sea. 3.1 Persimmon Leaf While not edible, the leaves of the persimmon tree are oft used in the preservation of other food. 2.0 Agedeep Aethersand The coarse-grained, elementally aspected remnants of highly concentrated aetherially reduced mineral matter. 4.3 Stonehard Water Water so replete with minerals that drinking it unboiled is inadvisable, regardless of how appealing that may seem. 3.4 Grade 3 Vitality Alkhest When applied to items such as battle gear, this experimental alchemical liquid will dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to vitality, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. 4.0 Gyr Abanian Carbon Rods Pure carbon used in the manufacture of specialty steel. 6.0 Animal Fat The foul-smelling fatty tissue of a beastkin. 5.2 Spoken Blood The warm blood of a bipedal sentient. In several cases, the snake has been known to spring to life after moons of being entirely submerged in the liquid. 5.2 Splendid Tarichuk Feather Fortunately, the former owner was kind enough to molt this fine feather for you to collect without the need to resort to bloodshed, which may explain how it retains its natural splendor. *Only for use in Qitari beast tribe quests. *Not included in the gathering log. Unfortunately, this particular powder has lost all effectiveness. 2.0 Trillium A beautiful, white, tripetaloid flower. This petal contains very few impurities, allowing for longer, hotter combustion. 3.0 Grade 2 Artisanal Skybuilders' Dawn Lizard Those wondering what separates this from a non-artisanal dawn lizard need only observe the way it devours its prey. 2.2 Azim Spring Water Water of uncommon clarity sourced from underground springs on the Azim Steppe. It must be thrown against a wall with an overarm motion, and then bounce exactly three and a half times before being caught in a bowl of hot porridge. 5.21 Approved Grade 2 Artisanal Skybuilders' Rock Salt It seems there are almost as many varieties of rock salt as there are varieties of rock, if the skybuilders' somewhat arbitrary system of assigning names is to be believed. Used in expert crafting recipes. 4.3 Fragrant Steppe Wildgrass Unusually fragrant wildgrass, rare even on the Azim Steppe. *Only for use in Namazu beast tribe quests. *Not included in the gathering log. 2.0 Enchanted Mythrithrite Ink Ink fortified with mythrithrite sand to improve aetherial conductivity. 5.11 Skybuilders' Spring Water Having only traveled the relatively short distance from the Coerthas central highlands to Ishgard, this spring water is still remarkably fresh, though the icy chill threatens to freeze it inside the bottle. It is often gathered and put on display during regional winter festivals. 3.55a Duskglow Aethersand The elementally aspected remnants of aetherially reduced matter. 6.05 Grade 6 Intelligence Alkhest When applied to items such as battle gear, this experimental alchemical liquid will dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to intelligence, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. 5.2 Grade 3 Intelligence Dissolvent When applied to items such as battle gear, this alchemical liquid will dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to intelligence, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. 3.0 Pelagic Clay Fine olean dust and the bones of marine creatures—it is generally better to not ask which—this clay is found only in the deepest parts of the sea. 5.21 Grade 2 Artisanal Skybuilders' Spring Water Rather than simply being free of impurities, this water actually possesses the ability to preemptively destroy any impurities that dare to come near it. 2.0 Wild Banana Shoot Under the proper conditions, this seedling will grow into a tree almost ten fathoms high, and produce upwards of four score bananas per season. 5.31 Grade 3 Skybuilders' Umbral Tortoise In addition to its craggy hide and shell protecting it from the teeth and claws of predators, the earth-aspected aether with which it is infused causes it to taste like soil. 2.1 Chalk A soft, white powder made by heating seashells in a furnace. 6.1 Imp Wing The membranous wing of an imp. 5.31 Grade 3 Skybuilders' Truespring Water Often confused with falsespring water, which is remarkably similar apart from the fact it smells like a wet dog. 2.0 Enchanted Dimythrite Ink Ink fortified with dimythrite sand to improve aetherial conductivity. 3.0 Mandrake The man-shaped root of a wild plant commonly found growing on Vylbrand. 5.0 Boggy Bark This slab of bark harvested from an ancient swampland tree is covered thick in verdant moss. *Only for use in Qitari beast tribe quests. *Not included in the gathering log. 5.41 Grade 4 Strength Alkhest When applied to items such as battle gear, this experimental alchemical liquid will dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to strength, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. 4.05 Grade 2 Reisu of Intelligence When applied to items such as battle gear, this Far Eastern potion will, similarly to Eorzean dissolvents, dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to intelligence, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. 3.0 Steppe Safflowers A brightly colored flower that blooms across the Azim Steppe. 4.0 Hallowed Water Water blessed by an anointed Halonic Orthodox priest. 2.0 Silkmoth Scales The powdery scales of a silkmoth's wing. 3.0 Shark Oil An odorless oil extracted from the fatty tissue of sharks. The inhabitants of Thavnair's capital city of Radz-at-Han have a strange custom that states if two people meet underneath a sprig of mistletoe, they must each give the other one of their shoes. 2.0 Forbidden Wax Forbidden in many markets for the nefarious means with which it is extracted, this wax is cherished by leatherworkers for the luster it brings to tanned hides when applied. 4.0 Grade 1 Reisu of Strength When applied to items such as battle gear, this Far Eastern potion will, similarly to Eorzean dissolvents, dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to strength, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. Many volunteers suspect that Splendid Worm Packed with splendid nutrients, any who consume this worm will become as hardy as the rocks it dwells within. *Only for use in Qitari beast tribe quests. *Not included in the gathering log. 4.2 Thavnairian Horsetail A robust grass grown on Thavnair, often used as an abrasive. For a carnivorous, slavering scalekin, it has the most impeccable taste manners, or more precisely, "blood-spattered patch of ground manners." Used in expert crafting recipes. 4.05 Formic Acid The pungent and corrosive secretion of an ant. 6.0 Grade 5 Vitality Alkhest When applied to items such as battle gear, this experimental alchemical liquid will dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to vitality, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. 2.1 Morbol Vine The squirming vine of a morbol. Culinarians are investigating the connection between its combustive properties and claims that the consumption of mugwort causes indigestion. *Only for use in Qitari beast tribe quests. *Not included in the gathering log. 2.0 Thavnairian Resin A long-lasting synthetic resin concocted by Radz-at-Han's finest alchemists. 4.4 Hakutaku Eye Cluster A cluster of eodes from a legendary beast, the Hakutaku. 5.31 Approved Grade 4 Artisanal Skybuilders' Barbglass The countless tiny barbs at the tips of this hardy plant are believed to deter grazing beastkin. 5.05 Multifaceted Alumen This all-in-one alumen, refined and modified in a collaborative effort by the Mean's various facets, is used to tan and deodorize hides. 2.0 Potter's Clay Thick, sticky clay used to make cups, pots, and jars. 5.45 Oddly Delicate Shark Oil The treatment to which the shark was subjected to extract its oil was anything but delicate. 5.45 Oddly Specific Dark Matter Darker (and more specific) than your average matter. Can't blame a man for keeping his resin to himself, can you? *Excerpt from How to Win Friends and Execute People: Climbing the Ranks of the Temple Knightsby unknown author Used in level 80 crafting recipes. 5.21 Grade 2 Skybuilders' Asphaltum Plans to use this sticky, black substance to cover the streets of Ishgard were vehemently opposed, as it would ruin the uniformly grey aesthetic—which on most days includes the sky itself. 2.0 Growth Formula Beta This alchemically formulated potion accelerates the growth of foliage. 4.4 Grade 4 Singing Clusters A beautiful flower common in Aldenard from which a potent sleeping poison can be extracted. 3.0 Enchanted Palladium Ink Ink fortified with palladium sand to improve aetherial conductivity. 5.35 Oddly Specific Mineral Sand If Nimie is to be believed, the precise mineral composition by grain is key in sand-related projects. 3.4 Tempest Adhesive Another of Grenold's creations. 5.31 Approved Grade 3 Skybuilders' Toad One of the skybuilders has been tasked with kissing every toad they receive on the off chance of it being a cursed prince. 2.2 Underground Spring Water Clear, sweet water bottled at its subterranean source. 5.0 Agewood Aethersand The coarse-grained, elementally aspected remnants of highly concentrated aetherially reduced mineral matter. 2.1 Damp Hakutaku Eye A dripping eyeball of the legendary Hakutaku. 2.2 Maple Sap An odorless and colorless liquid extracted from maple trees. 2.2 Gobcraft Resin A synthetic resin created by the goblins to protect leatherwork and carpentry from the elements. The same could, in fact, be said for practically any salt, but the Qitari tend to notice when someone tries to fob them off with anything less than the genuine article, hence the need to seek out this particular variety. *Only for use in Qitari beast tribe quests. *Not included in the gathering log. 5.31 Approved Grade 3 Skybuilders' Rock Salt This particular type of salt is for sprinkling on rocks to make them taste better, hence the name "rock salt." Used in level 40 crafting recipes. 2.2 Distilled Water The distilling process has removed all impurities from this water. 3.0 Superior Deep-green Enchanted Ink Fortifying ink with powder created by grinding down multi-aspected crystals has been found to improve aetherial conductivity several times more than ink fortified with common metals. Used in the tanning of raw animal hides. 3.0 Diluted Vitriol A flask of vitriol diluted with pure water. 2.45 Bone Charcoal Not actually created from bones, this hot-burning fuel is the result of baking coal in an airless furnace at an extremely high temperature. 5.0 Grade 1 Mind Dissolvent When applied to items such as battle gear, this alchemical liquid will dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to mind, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. 3.0 Grade 1 Reisu of Dexterity When applied to items such as battle gear, this Far Eastern potion will, similarly to Eorzean dissolvents, dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to dexterity, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. 2.0 Leafborne Aethersand The elementally aspected remnants of aetherially reduced floral matter. 3.3 Light Cerbera A type of gerbera named for its bright white flowers. 4.0 Grade 1 Reisu of Intelligence When applied to items such as battle gear, this Far Eastern potion will, similarly to Eorzean dissolvents, dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to intelligence, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. 5.41 Grade 4 Skybuilders' Finest Rock Salt This particular variety of rock salt has proved so popular with Ishgardian diners, that many choose to forego their meal altogether and spend the evening licking the communal salt rock instead. Used in level 80 crafting recipes. 3.0 Grade 1 Mind Alkhest When applied to items such as battle gear, this experimental Water The name may indicate that there are very specific criteria to pass muster to the skybuilders, but the taste and smell are the same as almost any type of water. Used in level 50 crafting recipes. This fine sand emits a glow indiscernible at gloaming. 5.4 Grade 4 Intelligence Alkahest When applied to items such as battle gear, this experimental alchemical liquid will dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to intelligence, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. 5.2 Splendid Nut Nuts typically are not thought of as traps, but when they're this splendid—and packed with arcane energy—their uses expand exponentially.*Only for use in Qitari beast tribe quests.*Not included in the gathering log. 5.21 Grade 2 Skybuilders' Cloud Drop Water Most people realize “cloud drop” is just a fancy way to say “rain.” Not many customers would be willing to pay for mere rainwater, but cloud drop water, on the other hand... 6.0 Extra Effervescent Water Naturally sparkling water bottled at the source. 4.0 Persimmon Tannin A translucent liquid extracted from persimmon wood by steeping it in hot water. Now lick the rock and put it back on the table.“—Typical Ishgardian mealtime conversationUsed in level 40 crafting recipes. 2.0 Powdered Horn A fine powder ground from the charred horn of an unidentifiable beast. 5.25 Oddly Specific Leafborne Aethersand The original request was simply for green sand, which does not actually leave that many options. 3.05 Slithersand Smooth granules of the mineral also known as green cinnabar, containing traces of quicksilver. The skybuilders have discovered that this can be utilized to keep their hands warm, although the fact that said bees are still very much capable of stinging does present a minor flaw in this otherwise brilliant idea. 4.0 Belah'dian Glass A round pane of glass excavated from ancient Belah'dian ruins. 2.0 Jellyfish Humours A thick, viscid oil extracted from a variety of jellyfish known as the ocean cloud. 2.0 Enchanted Gold Ink Ink fortified with gold sand to improve aetherial conductivity. This scalekin is particularly gifted in the art of nest building, or at least it was before being clobbered over the head and dragged off to the skybuilders.Used in expert crafting recipes. 2.0 Lampblack Linseed Oil Linseed oil mixed with soot collected from oil lamps to give it a deep-black color. 5.21 Grade 2 Skybuilders' Spring Water Despite the potentially misleading name, it can also be collected in summer and autumn. 2.1 Ahriman Wing The large, veined wing of an ahriman. 5.11 Skybuilders' Resin Thankfully, the resin appears to have suffered no ill effects during your return from the Rak'tika Greatwood, meaning that it is still a gelatinous blob with seemingly no practical application whatsoever. 3.0 Abalathian Spring Water Clear water taken from a spring on one of the many islets floating above Abalathia's Spine. Wait a moment and try again. 2.0 Growth Formula Deifa This alchemically formulated potion accelerates the growth of foliage. Of course, it is all fun and games until someone gets dragged down and preserved for future generations to excavate. 2.0 Fish Oil A clear oil extracted from the fatty tissue of various fish. Used to exorcise evil spirits from worldly items. 2.1 Moth Scales The powdery scales of a giant moth's wing. Despite being clear, when viewed under light, they shine a brilliant white. Perfect for practical jokes and party tricks. 2.2 Raziqsap Developed by a Far Eastern alchemist, this powder is used to harden platinum. 5.0 Seaborne Aethersand The elementally aspected remnants of aetherially reduced sea life. 5.2 Splendid Marimo While even the most scholarly of scholars struggle to identify exactly what this mysterious aquatic substance actually is, the Qitari have discovered it to be incredibly useful in the removal of unwanted odors. 4.2 Grade 3 Reisui of Vitality When applied to items such as battle gear, this Far Eastern potion will, similarly to Eorzean solvents, dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to vitality, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. 5.21 Approved Grade 3 Artisanal Skybuilders' Alumen Though alumen is commonly used in the tanning of animal hide, the artisanal can supposedly be used to tan other materials, such as hair or soil. 5.0 Sweet Marjoram A herb cultivated for both its medicinal uses and pleasant fragrance. 5.0 Grade 1 Intelligence Dissolvent When applied to items such as battle gear, this alchemical liquid will dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to intelligence, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. 5.21 Approved Grade 2 Skybuilders' Cloud Drop Water Most people realize “cloud drop” is just a fancy way to say “rain.” Not many customers would be willing to pay for mere rainwater, but cloud drop water, on the other hand...Used in level 80 crafting recipes. 4.1 Coal Tar An oily black liquid made from coal. 5.31 Grade 3 Skybuilders' Finest Rock Salt Many people prefer to keep such chunks whole so that they may be used as “salt rocks.” These are placed in the center of the dining table so that anyone who feels their meal is lacking in saltiness can simply lick it and carry on with their meal. 5.2 Splendid Scorpion Dwelling in rocky areas, this scorpion is splendidly hardy and promises to impart this quality to those who devour it.*Only for use in Qitari beast tribe quests.*Not included in the gathering log. 2.0 Grazing Grass A bag of the lush grass upon which Azim Steppe dzos are wont to graze.*Only for use in Namazu beast tribe quests.*Not included in the gathering log. 4.45 Young Water Lily A unique type of flora which grows on inland ponds, its round, flat leaves creating a floating canopy on the water's surface. 3.0 Levin Mint The pink leaves of this peculiar mint thrum gently with lightning energy. 5.0 Enchanted Durium Ink Ink fortified with durium sand to improve aetherial conductivity. 3.05 Grade 2 Mind Alkahest When applied to items such as battle gear, this experimental alchemical liquid will dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to mind, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. 2.0 Rosemary A savory herb treasured for its ability to enhance focus and concentration. The leaves can be harvested and used in salads, or the plant can be allowed to bolt and the seeds gathered and used to spice ale. 2.0 Chamomile A fragrant yellow flower found growing throughout Vylbrand. 5.2 Grade 3 Vitality Dissolvent When applied to items such as battle gear, this alchemical liquid will dissolve away minute amounts of aether aspected to elements detrimental to vitality, and by doing so, better attune the item and its wearer to the remaining beneficial elements. 5.21 Approved Grade 2 Skybuilders' Silex The name makes it sound far more sinister than it actually is.Used in level 70 crafting recipes. 5.0 Resin The viscous sap of a coniferous tree. This is not an ice stalactite. 3.2 Seventh Heaven A rare flower that has an elemental aspect tipped severely in the direction of astral. 4.05 Borax This soft lusterless crystal is believed to stay the hands of corruption and is used in the preservation of organics. 2.0 Refined Natron A pure white powder with no trace of impurity. 5.41 Approved Grade 4 Artisanal Skybuilders' Calman In this case, “artisanal” refers to the calman itself rather than the person tasked with procuring it. 5.0 Ahriman Tears Large teardrops harvested from an ahriman. Nevertheless, it continues to be used to this day, as Qitari are content to comply with the teachings of the ancients, no matter how absurd they may be.*Only for use in Qitari beast tribe quests.*Not included in the gathering log. 5.25 Odorless Animal Fat This goblet of beastkin tissue does not exhibit the rancid odor most commonly associated with animal fat. 2.0 Bee Basket A tightly knitted wicker basket filled with a swarm of agitated honeybees. 4.3 Steppe Sedge A perennial that proliferates through the grasslands of the Azim Steppe.*Only for use in Namazu beast tribe quests.*Not included in the gathering log. 4.0 Wing Glue An adhesive substance created by boiling down the leathery wings of bats, wyverns, and imps. 4.36 Pazuzu's Feather A foul feather plucked from the Eureka nightmare, Pazuzu. 5.31 Approved Grade 3 Skybuilders' Mistletoe Used in a variety of medical treatments despite being highly toxic. Often carried by young Lalafellin girls as a good-luck charm. 5.41 Grade 4 Skybuilders' Truespring Water The advertising slogan, “Spring water never tasted so true,” has left many Ishgardians both impressed and baffled in equal measure. 5.21 Grade 2 Skybuilders' Toad One skybuilder was heard to claim that to assign grades to living creatures is degrading. 2.0 Tawny Latex Tawny in color, this rare variety of latex is yielded only by specific trees. However, to counteract this, those creatures have developed an especially tough lining to the inside of their mouths, and could probably bite down on a handful of broken glass without so much as batting an eyelid.Used in expert crafting recipes. 4.25 Pearl Roselle A milky white flower commonly found growing in the humid climes of the southern seas.
